Summary of proposed research (including methods and significance, as well as proposed collaborators - attach additional sheets if needed) Note: each collaborator must fill out a separate research proposal:

Summary of proposed research (continued, attach additional sheets, if needed):

- I understand that neither Duke University, the Duke Lemur Center, the Division of Fossil Primates, nor their staff and affiliates are liable for injuries or loss during my research at the Division.
- I agree not to take or use photographs for publication or make molds/casts of specimens with out written permission.
- I agree to provide the Division with copies of any photographs taken and to copyright them to the DFP.
- I understand that the lab is only open during regular business hours (M-F, 9-5).
- I have read, understand, and fully agree to the Division’s “Collections use policies” which can be found online (<http://www.fossils.duke.edu/collections/fossils.html>)
- I understand that all proposed collaborators on this research must fill out a research proposal for approval.
- I understand that research cannot commence until approval is received in writing.
- I understand that should this research develop in such a way that it departs from the originally proposed work a new research proposal must be submitted.
- I agree to submit a final project report upon completion of this research as well as to provide 5 copies of publications to the DFP. I will add a DFP publication number to all articles published and agree to acknowledge the appropriate foreign collaborators.
